

Greed 11.2.09 (AP)

Summary : energetically, every feeling, thought and emotion becomes visible, how it literally poisons the atmosphere. This piece makes greed a very tangible thing indeed.

T. we would like you to come up to be with us. We are doing this because it is less taxing on your physical body. We need to put you in your shell and just take you away from the energy of earth

A. I can feel that gravity is a lot less

T. this is where you need to be

A. we are in between things?

T. yes. We wish to you help you feel and understand what the greed of your Earth, your world, feels like and what it is doing to the atmosphere, to the energy of earth, and so we are asking you to feel the energy now that you are on the outside.

A. it is clawing towards, grasping

T. yes and how does that make you feel breathwise?

A. it is constricting

T. exactly. Now look at Earth and look at the greed and see what the greed is doing to the planet

A. it's like a nasty green mesh tightening round it. It is a horrid colour anyway

T. it is, we would call it putrid

A. yes that's perfectly right

T. and can you see how it is constricting Earth's energy. It is a mesh. Look at how energy is trying to escape this mesh, where and how?

A. over the sea it can get out, but the mesh is much thicker over landmasses, particular landmasses, over the highly urbanised parts

T. yes. When one human being is full of greed we will be able to see. They will see it as need, we see it not as need but as greed. We do know the difference and can see the difference with humans and it is their greed. There are those souls that have needs that need to be helped and there are souls that have greed that they consider to be their needs . The souls with this great need and greed, we have to say need and greed because they perceive it to be the same, they are emitting many times multiplied the negative energy of somebody who was just greedy over one thing.

A. I was wondering if you make a distinction between fear and greed?

T. it has an element of fear in it

A. yes but a lot of others are fearful of not having enough

T. there is a difference

a. that's what I was wondering

T. that is not greed, that is fear and need. It is fearing lack. We are looking at these souls that there are many of, that have become wealthy on the backs of many others. They are harbouring a niche in another place that is dark for themselves. For they will not take their wealth with them, they will not take a wealth of understanding with them, and they will have to begin at the low levels they are at, and understand that they will have many lifetimes of lack. They do not realise what they are creating, what monsters they are creating, but they also are the monster creating.

Greed comes in different levels.

There is a constant greed to have more than anyone else so it is a competitive greed. No matter how much they have, they want more than their neighbour. That is almost unforgivable

A. yes and that is nothing to do with not having enough is it?

T. it is not. It is 'I need to be seen to be better than anyone else' because these souls measure themselves by their possessions.

Then there is the level whereby there is greed to be greater than they are, and these souls will cheat other human beings in order to be seen on this growth ladder as they see it. It is a destructive greed. At these levels this greed is very destructive to the soul, it disempowers the soul. They may appear to have power of one kind but it disempowers the soul and it disempowers them emotionally.

Then there is the level which is like a child's greed.

A. It's mine!

T. exactly so. If that is fed, if the child is allowed to have what they consider to be only theirs, it will feed them to be as the two others. There is also the child who has nothing and is a good soul that decides it wants more than it has and is prepared to work for it and then gets caught up in one of these levels. They are redeemable but they have they have to wake up to it themselves

A. yes, it's like any other trap, you have to find your own way out .

T. all that they have will be lost, they will lose everything. All of these souls will lose everything, they all will.

A. while they are still in human incarnation?

T. yes, this would be a blanket lesson in this way

A. so is this what this financial crisis is fuelling at the moment, is this loss among these levels?

T. yes it is. The finances of your world, those at the top are blaming those just below them and those just below are blaming those just below and so on down the line. Until they own up to the true position and the position they took being wrong, they will not move forwards

A. and that has to be in their hearts not just in their words?

T. We have listened to them speaking and not feeling

A. there have been a lot of bank chiefs saying 'sorry' in the last few days and they are not sorry at all are they?

T. they are not meaning sorry, it is more sorry that they have been caught out, and anyone can say that, just as they have. It is not from the heart it is just from their heads. When they have left this place that they have been made to say sorry, and they have been made to say sorry, they go and continue exactly as they did before. They have not learned anything.

A. so they will have to fall further?

T. they will, there will be further falls for them. Unfortunately as it crumbles round the earth, it has a knock-on effect. It is that the whole system has corruption throughout the world and so that system will dissipate. It has to change in order for humans to assist those of us who are trying to save your planet Earth, they have to make changes within the system to be a fair system . As long as you would use money, it is a test for you that this system is a fair and even system. Then when it has gone, those that have seen it to be fair and even will be fair and even in their dealings with others that are left on the world.

A. it is a terrific lesson in trust for the ordinary ones among us.

T. There is a lack of trust in your world. There are a lot of you that trust many, but there are even more trust no one. Sadly in your world, the negativity of that has been fuelled by the capitulation of your financial world. Their trust has been broken and these souls will not recover from that. They will look to other ways, but some of them will never trust again. Some of them were not trusting with their hearts they were trusting with their heads. They gave voice to trust rather than heartfelt trust. When they truly trust and we mean truly trust...

A. it is very difficult for humans, you know that, Uncle Theo

T. we understand this. We see the trust and understand the wobbles. We understand this in humans, the questioning of humans, which is what makes you human. The trust that you need and we know you have not lost is that trust you have within you, not about earthly things

A. the earthly things are the things I worry about, not the rest of it

T. that is what will happen gradually, these souls that have lost will be looking for a new way forwards and the words that we have written between us all, that we have given, will help many many to be able to see a way forwards to help themselves also. There are more words to come. Where greed takes precedence among humans it breaks up families, it breaks up your institutions and so the fine cracks that were already on Earth, going over earth energetically, have been opening up. The mesh that you see, this putrid mesh is closing in on earth. Souls from other worlds are working to clear this mesh but as they clear it, the negativity and greed of humans creates it to be deeper and more solid, suffocating earth, and the suffocation of Earth will be the end of earth.

A. we have to learn to be fair. Otherwise that will be the end of us?

T. it will. Humans need to understand not only are they to treat everyone fairly, in that way they will be treating everyone as equals, but they also need it to be seen that they are treated fairly. Now fairness comes in different ways for each human. What that human would see to be fair, is what sits right for that human. If it truly sits right for that human, then it is fair. It is not what we judge to be fair, it is what the human feels to be fair. It does not necessarily mean that others will see that action as fair, but it has to come from the heart of the human and then they have exonerated themselves so to speak.

A. Their souls are alright even if they have arguments on the human level?

T. of course, there will be

A. that's the difficulty with humans, they will have witchhunts and arguments and rows about nothing.

T. yes and they argue about intangibles

A. I think it stops them having to do anything about anything

T. well it stops them being able to do anything. Many of us from all of the different planets around you, observe you all and you would understand, we stand scratching our heads! Humans are their own worst enemies and they can be their greatest healers. Those who are their own worst enemies for any length of time will disappear and learn their lessons elsewhere. Some of the souls at the top of this greed chain, feeding it through the chain, will be turned around. Very few, but some will and they will do great good and they will be seen to be acting very fairly. The moment this begins the mesh loosens.

A. this is all perpetuated by our political systems

T. they will go. You have politics in many things. Your professional politicians sometimes enter politics for good reasons. Not all, some enter as career politicians because that is all they can do. But some are good and they are blindfolded and their mouths are taped over so that they see nothing and are able to say nothing.

A. it will be a great help to all the earth when it is able to develop a different system, and we do not have to put up with these people lying and cheating and stealing

T. humans need to live to the word 'democracy'. Humans need to learn that it is shared.

A. This would make a very good page for the website

T. it would. Humans need to understand how they are destroying the world they say they love

A. but it is just humans that will be destroyed isn't it? The earth will throw us off?

T. it is but areas of the earth will be destroyed. Only covered up for a while

A. Like the surface of Mars, which is not much use at the moment, but it will be.

T. it will. The atmosphere out here is changing. The whole universe is changing. When one world changes, it affects all the others. You are becoming tired.

A. I am, I will get back in my shell....I have come through all those horrible layers and meshes and there is this beautiful blue planet underneath.

T. it is a beautiful planet – it is worth saving. It would be nice to save it with some humans also.

A. here I am on my tropical beach again. Thank you Uncle Theo.

T. Blessings dear girl.
